Topic: Free to Choose: A Jewish Framework for Better Decisions

Drawing on Torah sources, clinical examples, and the science of Motivational Interviewing, Rabbi Elie Dordek explores how we, and the people we love, can make responsible choices with ease and joy. Practical, honest, and grounded in real life. Participants leave with tools they can use immediately.

About Rabbi Dordek

Rabbi Dordek is an educator, innovator, and therapist with over 30 years of experience in Torah learning, education, and personal growth. Raised Modern Orthodox in Chicago, he pursued advanced study in Israel and now teaches at Yeshivat Mitzpe Yericho, which he helped found, while advising schools worldwide. He created Mishna Sdura, a widely used method for learning Mishnah, and authored Mishnat Eyal, preserving the teachings of a fallen IDF officer. His approach emphasizes clear learning, practical growth, and responsible decision-making.
